Group Discussion: Contract Selection and Document-Based Project Administration

Course Code/Name: CEDLO7025/LAC Year/Sem: BE/ VII

Date: 03/09/2026

Course Outcome: CEDLO7025.2 Apply the knowledge of various construction contracts and contract documents in construction project administration.

Question	Bloom Level
A construction organisation is executing different types of projects such as residential buildings, highways, bridges, water-supply projects and public buildings. The project administrator must select an appropriate construction contract and ensure that the necessary contract documents are properly prepared and administered. Each group is given a different project situation. Discuss the case, identify the most appropriate contract arrangement, identify the essential contract documents, and justify your decision.	Apply

Group	Project Situation	Task for Discussion
1	Construction of a residential building with complete drawings and specifications	Select the appropriate contract type and identify essential contract documents.
2	Construction of a highway where quantities of excavation and pavement may vary considerably	Discuss the suitability of an Item Rate Contract and explain how variations should be administered.
3	Construction of a school building with a clearly defined scope, drawings and specifications	Discuss the suitability of a Lump Sum Contract and identify documents required to control the project.
4	Emergency repair and restoration of a damaged public building where the exact scope cannot initially be determined	Discuss the suitability of a Cost-Plus Contract and identify the documents required for payment and cost verification.
5	Construction of a water-supply project where the contractor is responsible for design, construction, testing and commissioning	Evaluate the suitability of an EPC/Turnkey Contract and identify major contract documents.
6	Government road project where contractors are invited to quote a percentage above or below the department's Schedule of Rates	Discuss the Percentage Rate Contract and explain the role of BOQ, Schedule of Rates and agreement.
7	Construction project involving a contractor, specialised subcontractor and material suppliers	Discuss the importance of work orders, subcontracts, purchase orders and specifications in project administration.
8	Building project where the client proposes several changes after construction has started	Discuss variation orders/change orders, their documentation and their effect on contract price and completion time.
9	Construction project delayed because of unforeseen site conditions and late release of drawings	Identify the relevant contract provisions and documents for extension of time, claims and responsibility allocation.
10	Contractor submits a claim for additional payment due to unexpected increase in material prices	Discuss price escalation, contractual claims and supporting documents required for evaluating the claim.

Evaluation

Performance Indicator	Max. Marks	Marks Obtained
Understanding of Given Project Situation	2
Application of Contract Knowledge	2
Identification of Relevant Contract Documents	2
Justification / Reasoning	2
Participation in Group Discussion	2
Total	10

Performance Indicator	Exceed Expectations (EE) (2 marks)	Meet Expectations (ME) (1 marks)	Below Expectations (BE) (0 marks)
Understanding of Given Project Situation	Excellent understanding	Good understanding	Poor understanding
Application of Contract Knowledge	Correctly applies suitable contract principles	Mostly correct application	Unable to apply
Identification of Relevant Contract Documents	Identifies all relevant documents	Identifies most documents	Unable to identify relevant documents
Justification / Reasoning	Clear and logically justified	Good justification	Weak justification
Participation in Group Discussion	Active, relevant and constructive contribution	Good participation	Very limited participation
